

What qualities do you most admire in your coworkers?

“That we can all work as a team, respect each other, and have a wonderful experience at the same time.”

Stella Vittorio · President/Chief Atelier, Stella Vittorio Collection
– Custom Design Handbags & Accessories

Caesar Ibarra · CPA/CFA, Shareholder, Muckel Anderson CPAs

“There are many qualities I admire in my co-workers, but the one that stands out is their support for each other on the job and helping clients achieve their financial goals. They’re selfless in their work and with each other. That’s admirable and inspires me every day.”

“I admire my colleagues’ dedication, drive and passion, as well as their unwavering commitment to providing our patients with the most effective cutting-edge treatments and research in healthcare.”

James Kilber · Executive Director, Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada

Misty Chadwick · Exclusive Agency Owner, Allstate Insurance Company

“Enthusiasm and dedication are two of the most admirable traits my co-workers possess. Our team demonstrates this through sheer happiness to serve our customers with knowledgeable insight, while also maintaining a fierce sales mentality.”

“CAI Nevada has more than 1,000 members who participate in the HOA industry, and I admire the fact that everyone is dedicated to building better neighborhoods and a healthier community.”

Mary Rendina · Executive Director, Community Associations Institute of Nevada

Florence M E Rogers · President and General Manager, Nevada Public Radio

“The resilience of my entire staff through this recession. We’ve stayed focused on making News 88.9 KNPR and Classical 89.7 vital community assets; they’ve done more with less. Their determination is inspiring.”